
SAN DIEGO (30 April, 2012)—CoreNet Global announced today that Sprint/CBRE and Microsoft (tie), Space Florida and OVG Real Estate were the winners of three annual awards presented during the Opening Session of the CoreNet Global Summit at the San Diego Convention Center.

“Globally, the corporate real estate community continues to innovate at an accelerating pace to meet enterprise-wide demands for greater profitability, accountability, social responsibility and sustainability,” said CoreNet Global CEO Angela Cain. “We want to recognize industry leaders for the steps they are taking in breaking new ground and advancing corporate real estate thought leadership.”

The following honors were awarded:

• The Sustainable Leadership and Award for Design and Development, sponsored by Tandus, was presented to OVG Real Estate for its work on the TNT Centre in The Netherlands. TNT’s goal is to be the first zero emissions post and express company in the world through its holistic environmental program, Planet Me.

• The Economic Development Leadership Award was presented to Space Florida for its work on the Boeing Commercial Crew Program Headquarters and Manufacturing site. Space Florida led a team comprised of NASA/Kennedy Space Center and Enterprise Florida.
• The Industry Excellence Award was presented to both the Sprint/CBRE team for its Site Assessment Mobile Application and to Microsoft for its Smart-Building Solutions. The Site Assessment Mobile App, created by the Sprint/CBRE Innovation Council, enables a more efficient inspections process. Through its Smart-Building Solutions program, Microsoft is committed to software and technology innovation that helps people and organizations around the world improve the environment.
